

Early Childhood Institute
May 14 & May 28-June 1

This course examines child development theory and current research related to curriculum, behavior, and assessment as pertaining to pre-kindergarten age children. Enrollment is limited to teachers who want to add-on the PreK-3 endorsement to a current K-6 or K-8 license. Minimum scores on the designated Praxis II tests must be acquired to complete the additional endorsement. Pre-meeting May 14 required.

Classroom Management Strategies
June 4 & June 18-22

This workshop will include a study of classroom management strategies which will center on interpersonal relationships, classroom organization and management, instruction, problem solving, behavior, and school-wide discipline. Pre-meeting June 4 required.

Celebrating Children's Literature
June 11 & June 25-29

This workshop will celebrate the wonderful world of children's literature as we explore old and new favorites, Caldecott Medal winners, Coretta Scott King Award winners, and others. Participants will discover new materials and develop strategies which will enable them to use children's literature across the curriculum and grade levels. Pre-meeting June 11 required.

Reading/Comprehension Strategies
June 25 & July 9-13

Best practice reading and comprehension strategies for all students! Workshop participants will explore research-based active strategies that facilitate the construction of meaning from print. These strategies are appropriate for the stages of the reading process: pre-reading, during-reading, and post-reading. Pre-meeting June 25 required.

Learning and the Brain
June 25 & July 9-13

How should we teach in order to receive maximum response from the human brain? Brain research and its implications have created a new day for teaching and learning. Teachers and administrators must consider this new knowledge if we are to promote equity and excellence for all children. This workshop will explore this exciting realm of knowledge along with strategies which reshape classroom practice as they maximize student learning. Pre-meeting June 25 required.
