

Early Childhood Institute

May 13 & May 27-31

This course examines child development theory and current research related to curriculum, behavior, and assessment as pertaining to pre-kindergarten age children. Enrollment is limited to teachers who want to add-on the PreK-3 endorsement to a current K-6 or K-8 license. Minimum scores on the designated Praxis II tests must be acquired to complete the additional endorsement. Pre-meeting May 13 required.

Celebrating Children’s Literature

June 10 & June 24-28

This workshop will celebrate the wonderful world of children’s literature as we explore old and new favorites, Caldecott Medal winners, Coretta Scott King Award winners, and others. Participants will discover new materials and develop strategies which will enable them to use children’s literature across the curriculum and grade levels. Pre-meeting June 10 required.

Learning and the Brain

June 24 & July 8-12

How should we teach in order to receive maximum response from the human brain? Brain research and its implications have created a new day for teaching and learning. Teachers and administrators must consider this new knowledge if we are to promote equity and excellence for all children. This workshop will explore this exciting realm of knowledge along with strategies which reshape classroom practice as they maximize student learning. Pre-meeting June 24 required.

Common Core and More

May 28 & June 10-14

The Common Core State Standards (CCSS) insist that instruction in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language be a shared responsibility within the school. The K–5 standards include expectations for reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language applicable to a range of subjects, including but not limited to English Language Arts (ELA). The grades 6–12 standards are divided into two sections, one for ELA and the other (often referred to as College–Career Readiness (CCR) for history/social studies, science, and technical subjects, including Math. This division reflects the unique, time-honored place of ELA teachers in developing students’ literacy skills while at the same time recognizing that teachers in other areas must have a role in this development as well. This workshop will serve as both an introduction and a closer look at the exciting curriculum changes that are taking place—and will be taking place—now and in the near future. Participants will be immersed in strategies for close reading, argumentative writing, and informational text sets, among others. Pre-meeting May 28 required.
