ANXIETY

Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, rejoice.
Let your reasonableness be known to everyone.
The Lord is at hand; do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts
and your minds in Christ Jesus.

Philippians 4:4-7

Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him
down,
but a good word
makes him glad.

Proverbs 12:25

ECCLIESIASTES

It is better to go to the house of mourning
than to go to the house of feasting,
for this is the end of all mankind,
and the living will lay it to heart.

The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning,
but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

Failure to probe and to identify the deep sources of our anxiety often results in an inability to overcome it.

Weeping may tarry
for the night,
but joy comes with
the morning.

Psalm 30:5

Leverage technology in real estate

The holidays are the best time to be thinking about real estate. It's a time when you can take a step back and look at the big picture. It's a time when you can take a step back and look at the big picture.

Just as we prepare to hit the gym in the New Year to atone for our dietary sins, we should also focus on shedding unnecessary costs and inefficiencies in our real estate programs.

Don't be lulled by the fact that the holidays are the best time to be thinking about real estate. It's a time when you can take a step back and look at the big picture. It's a time when you can take a step back and look at the big picture.

GUEST POST
BY CHAD MURETA

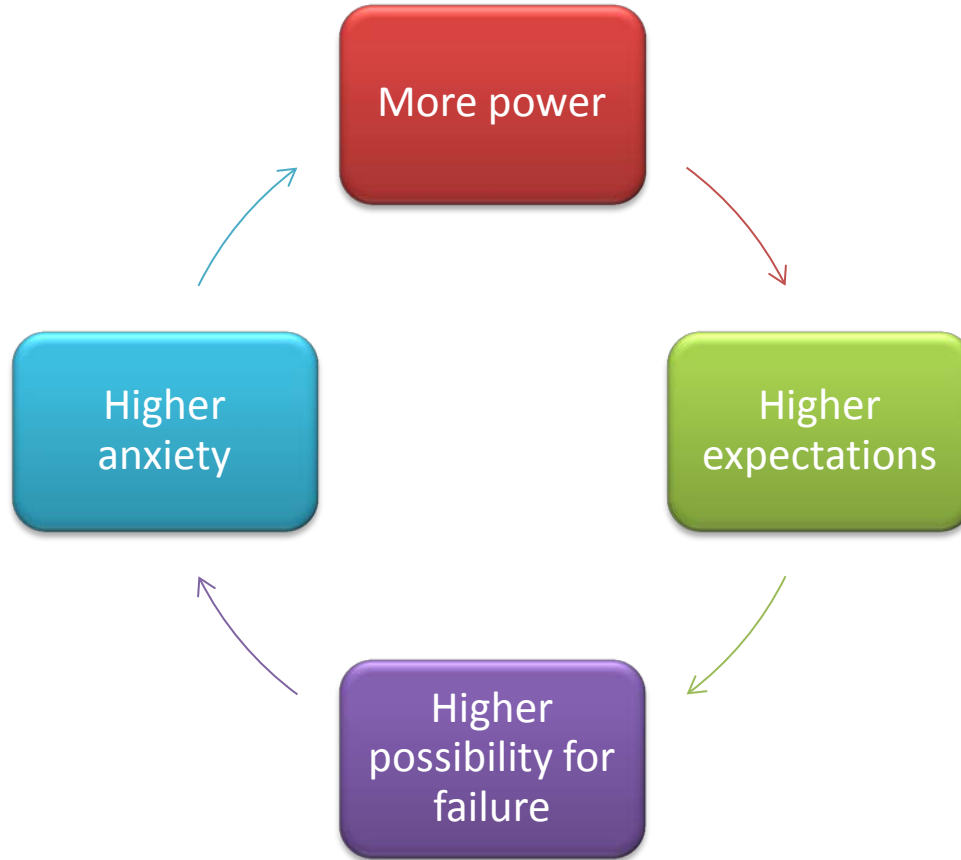

“Man is constantly being assured today that he has more power than ever before in history, but his daily experience is one of powerlessness.”

Richard Weaver: Ideas Have Consequences (1948)

“In reality...if any one age really attains...the power to make its descendants what it pleases, all men who live after it are the patients of that power. They are weaker; not stronger: for though we may have put wonderful machines in their hands we have preordained how they are to use them.”

C.S. Lewis: Abolition of Man(1943)

ECCLYASTES

For in much wisdom is much vexation,
and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

Again I saw that under the sun the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor bread to the wise, nor riches to the intelligent, nor favor to those with knowledge, but time and chance happen to them all.

Focus

A magnifying glass with a silver rim and a black handle is positioned over the word "Focus". The lens of the magnifying glass is centered over the word, which is written in a large, bold, black sans-serif font. The word "Focus" is partially obscured by the magnifying glass's frame. The background is a plain, light gray.

Anxiety is the product of ... a future vision that is too small,
a present life that is neglected,
and a past history that is forgotten.
