Mission Statement

The mission of the Department is to provide students with a broad background in the study of society and human relationships from a Christian perspective, to enable them to enter graduate programs or entry level positions in their respective discipline.

Curriculum

I. Sociology major—33 semester hours

The courses in Sociology are designed for two types of students: (1) those who desire pre-professional training for sociology or other related fields of human relations, and (2) those who seek to understand underlying principles in human relations, the role of custom and group psychology in collective behavior, the structure of society, the problems of group living, and the tendencies toward the improvement or the disintegration of society. Courses are designed to present both a practical and a scientific analysis of human relationships in the various areas of social life.

A. SOC 211, 317, 417, 418, 419, 422

B. SOC Electives: 15 hours.

II. Family Studies major—42 hours

The family, as a basic building block of society, is critical to the functioning of society as a whole. The contribution of the Christian community to the development of leaders in family relations is crucial. The Family Studies major focuses on the development of the individual in the context of family and society. The program is designed to prepare students for (a) professional careers in a variety of human service areas; (b) leadership roles in church, school, and community; (c) personal roles in family living; and (d) graduate education. Graduates with the major meet all requirements for the provisional Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE) designation from the National Council on Family Relations. Graduates who do not pursue graduate study typically find employment as parent educators, child life specialists and program directors in public and private agencies.

A. Prerequisites: SOC 211, PSY 213, SW 200.

B. SOC 225, 325, 333, 370, 411, 422, 425; CHR 243; COM 235; ECF 415; PSY 219; SW 335

III. Criminal Justice minor—21 hours

The minor in Criminal Justice is for students with an interest in academic preparation in the fields of criminal justice, including investigation, courts, and corrections. Crime is of major domestic and international concern and efforts to find effective responses to it continue. Since 9/11 terrorists attack on America, Homeland Security has been a burgeoning field. According to the US Department of Labor, public and private security employment is expected to continue to increase. The profession of Criminal Investigation and Forensics is one of the fastest growing vocations in the country. The contribution of the Christian community in the field of Criminal Justice is critical. The field of Criminal Justice is also a mission field that is in need.

Assessment of Majors

Sociology majors round out their program with SOC 497: Senior Capstone Seminar. Senior Sociology students engage in original research which draws upon theoretical knowledge acquired in SOC 417 and research methodology gained in SOC 422. A major original research and oral presentation are the cumulative outcomes of the Sociology major.

The capstone experience for Family Studies students is found in SOC 411: Internship. In this course students are given the opportunity to apply knowledge from their coursework, clarify their own professional objectives, and gain professional experience in an approved community agency. Family Studies students complete a substantive term paper and senior portfolio in the Internship.

Student Organizations

Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, seeks to improve scholarship in social studies; to inspire service to humanity by an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems; and to engender sympathy towards others with different opinions and institutions.
