

THE STEPHEN OLDFORD CENTER
AT UNION UNIVERSITY

Union University in conjunction with The Doctor of Ministry program cordially invites you to join us for a special event entitled,

The Pastor and the Word of God:
Engaging Head and Heart in the Ministry of the Word

Featuring lectures on Preaching by Dr. R. Kent Hughes

The two lectures, from one who practices what he preaches, will deal with the vital ministry of proclaiming the Word of God in the local church. Both the head and the heart of the pastor/preacher must be engaged in this glorious task of rightly dividing the Word of Truth. There will be time for questions and interaction after each lecture. Dr. Hughes will preach an expository message at the final session on Friday morning.

Thursday, January 26, 2012

3:15– 5:00 p.m. Lecture 1

Dr. R. Kent Hughes

Kent Hughes was in pastoral ministry for 41 years, the last 27 as senior pastor of College Church in Wheaton, IL. He earned his B.A. from Whittier College (history), an M.Div. from Talbot Seminary and a D. Min. from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School.

Kent is the author of numerous books, among them the best-selling Disciplines of a Godly Family. He is editor of the projected 50-volume Preaching the Word series, to which he has made numerous contributions. He and his wife, Barbara, have four children and 21 grandchildren. He retired from his pulpit ministry at College Church and was given the title Senior Pastor Emeritus in December 2006. He continues to be involved in training pastors in biblical exposition and preaching.
