Struggling team looks ahead

By BYRON BUSH

Saturday, April 9 is a good reprieve for the Bulldogs as they look to the possibility of getting into the playoffs. In the game of doubleheader, the Bulldogs got 12 hits, but only scored 3 runs while leaving 11 men on deck. The problem seems to be inconsistent.

"It is devastating that he is leaving," said third baseman Jessica Crichton. "It will be hard to find someone as experienced as he was and has accomplished," she added.

Dunn has successfully coached the softball and volleyball teams into a combined record of 676-103-4 (89%) in his past eight seasons at Union. His teams have won two national championships, six regular-season championships and four NCAA Regional Championships. Six of his teams have made the NCAA National Tournament, the most in the history of the University.

"He always encouraged us and told us he was our number one fan," Kes said. "He was our friend even outside of softball."

"For Hopkinson and for the Bulldogs, we can't wait to see them play and Dunn as well as the volleyball team did in the fall."

Summer camps provide unique job experience

By Jhalyn Brown

Summer camp is a place for students to improve themselves and have fun at the same time. Several universities have camps that students can go to, and many of them are located in different places around the world. Some camps are in the United States, while others are in international locations. The camps are open to students of all ages, and they provide a great opportunity for personal growth and development.

Summer camp is a place where students can learn new skills and develop their talents. The camps offer a variety of activities, such as music, sports, arts, and crafts. The experience helps students to develop their confidence and self-esteem, and it can be a great way to make new friends. Summer camp is also a great opportunity for students to explore their interests and discover new hobbies.

One of the benefits of attending a summer camp is that students can make long-term friendships with other students. The camps offer a great opportunity for students to get to know each other and build lasting relationships. This can be especially important for students who are away from home and missing their family and friends.

In conclusion, summer camps provide a unique job experience that is both personal and professional. They offer opportunities for personal growth and development, and they can be a great way to meet new people and build lasting friendships. If you are interested in attending a summer camp, be sure to research the different options and choose one that is right for you.
