Objectives of the Program

The six objectives of the Ed.D. are to:
1. Focus on issues, practice, and research in the field of educational leadership.
2. Foster scholarly inquiry in areas of professional and intellectual interest.
3. Provide highly individualized experiences which meet individual career goals.
4. Foster analysis and problem solving skill and expertise.
5. Prepare leaders who effectively deal with the real issues of school improvement.

Program Description

The Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) is the highest professional degree in education. Candidates for this degree are recognized for their commitment to the application of knowledge for the improvement of educational practice.

The Union Ed.D. is designed for active professionals interested in leadership and teaching roles in P-12 schools, universities, government and business.

The Ed.D. is a 60-semester hour post-masters program containing two areas of emphasis; Administration and Supervision (A&S), a licensure course of study for P-12 school leaders, and Curriculum and Supervision (C&S), a non-licensure course of study designed for school leaders who desire knowledge of concepts and strategies for school and classroom leadership. With the A&S emphasis, earning a Tennessee Beginning Administrator License is possible while working on the degree. The degree is designed to meet both national (NCATE and ISLLC) and State of Tennessee licensure standards in school leadership.

The Cohort Approach. The Ed.D. program accepts students in groups to pursue each course (with the exception of the dissertation phase) together in a cohort. Lifelong friendships are developed through this format, and learning takes place in a spirit of unity, rigor and cooperation.

Program Delivery. Students will complete the first 39 semester hours of the program utilizing an innovative delivery system designed to meet the needs of educators. Ed.D. students will begin the program with a course offered on Saturdays in February and March, 8 a.m. – 2:30 p.m. over 5 1/2 Saturdays. The Summer term involves an intensive two months in which students complete 6-7 semester hours utilizing Saturdays in June and July, and mornings two days a week in June and July. Time is provided during the summer for library research, group projects, independent reading, and Practicum hours. In the fall, instruction occurs on Saturdays, 8 a.m. – 2:30 p.m. on 5 1/2 Saturdays for a course in September and October, followed by other courses offered on Saturdays in November-December, January-February, March-April, and May-June-July. Saturdays are utilized for courses offered January through May. The guiding principle is that students will complete one course before moving to another.

Administration and Supervision students begin the Practicum in their first summer if they are following Tennessee’s Standard Program Route (as defined in the Tennessee State Department of Education Guidelines for Administrator Endorsement). The Practicum runs the entire school year through the month of June. A full-time Internship, January through June, is required for A&S students following Tennessee’s Internship Program Route (as defined in the Tennessee State Department of Education Guidelines for Administrator Endorsement). Students and faculty maintain online contact during the intervening weeks and months in support of course assignments. Saturdays are also utilized for courses offered January through June. In June A&S students complete their Practicum or Internship and, with C&S students, present their Ed.S. Leadership Growth Paper. Also in June, A&S students take the Praxis II (SLA) School Leader's Licensure Assessment for "Beginning Administrator Licensure" and for graduation in August.

The Beginner Administrator’s License will qualify the candidate for an administrative position in the schools. If the candidate wants to qualify for the Professional Administrator’s License, he or she must be employed in a public school administrative position. At that juncture, the Graduate Studies in Education Program enters into the approved follow-up process of mentorship with the public school system which allows the candidate to advance to a license at the Professional Administrator’s level.

The doctoral program is completed in phases:

Phase I—the first 39 hours, the “Ed.S. phase” which serves as a period of residency for the student initially admitted to the doctoral program. Every doctoral student’s performance and potential is evaluated during this phase.

Phase II—the next 9 hours, the “Statistics and Design phase” lasting September through July and culminating with the student’s completing a dissertation proposal and the comprehensive exams.

Phase III—the final 12 hours, the “Dissertation phase” which consists of three registration periods of four semester hours each, September through May. All must be completed as a requirement for graduation. The Dissertation final draft is due May of each year for those students who hope to graduate in August of that same year. A dissertation oral presentation and defense by the doctoral student is conducted with his/her committee in May and June.

The Leadership Growth Paper. The Leadership Growth Paper is the culminating experience of the first 39 hours of the Ed.D. This scholarly paper affords the student the opportunity to engage in both an action-oriented research on a problem linked to school improvement and a self-evaluative professional development process.

The Leadership Growth Paper Forum. The Forum is an oral presentation of the Paper given by the graduate student facilitated by the graduate faculty in an educational community setting.

The Doctoral Committee. Doctoral students are assigned a dissertation committee chair by the graduate director during the first semester of the Research component. Selection of the committee chair is a critical step in the completion of the doctoral degree. Factors considered in selection are 1) expertise in the area of proposed research, 2) availability, 3) compatibility. A student works with his or her chair to recommend two other graduate faculty to serve on the committee. The committee members are assigned as early as the Fall and no later than the Spring semester of the first year of the Research component. In addition, the faculty members who teach one or more of the research courses (EDR 710, 720, 725) serve as research design and statistics resource faculty for all dissertation committees.

The Comprehensive Examinations. Upon completion of all courses (48 hours) prior to the Dissertation, the student will receive clearance to take the written and oral Comprehensive Examinations when the following requirements are met: a GPA of 3.2 in the first 48 hours of Ed.D. coursework as specified by the Program of Study and an approved doctoral committee. These examinations cover issues, practice and research in Educational Leadership. The written exam is prepared by the student’s doctoral committee and takes place over the course of three days. The exam consists of questions that are designed to provide students the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to analyze and synthesize pertinent knowledge in educational leadership while addressing significant problems and issues in their field. The exam is administered under supervision without the aid of texts or related materials. An oral Critique/Clarification with the student’s doctoral committee follows. Successful completion of the comprehensive examination advances the student to doctoral candidacy, a requirement for registration for Dissertation hours. No more than two attempts to pass the examination are permitted.

The Dissertation. The Doctoral dissertation is the culminating experience and exit requirement of the Doctor of Education program. The dissertation is scholarly inquiry into an area of professional and intellectual interest. It is a highly individualized experience for the graduate student; thus, the topic of research may vary depending on the professional goals and area of specialization of the student and expertise of the faculty. Working with an advisor early in the program and with faculty throughout the coursework, the student develops a research problem and proposal. Using the expertise and knowledge developed in the research core courses and under the direction of a faculty dissertation advisor and committee, the student conducts the research and produces a quality report of the findings. It is expected that the dissertation will follow standard accepted research methodologies and format. Requiring a broad-based understanding of theory and research, the Ed.D. dissertation should integrate knowledge and provide solutions to problems in the educational community, focusing on a specific setting. Results should include specific solutions or changes in educational practice. As a final demonstration of scholarly competence, the student conducts an oral presentation and defense of the research.

Admission Information
Classes for new cohorts begin each February. Students may be admitted throughout the year in an ongoing process so they can begin the necessary prerequisites and complete their doctoral admission file. All files must be complete by January 15 for classes that begin in February of that year. Students who have completed the first 39 hours of the program or who are currently enrolled in the Ed.S. must submit all application materials by March 15. Their classes begin in September of that year.

The items below must be submitted to the Office of Graduate Studies in Education in Jackson or Germantown. After they have been received, the applicant may be contacted to schedule a formal interview with graduate faculty in education. When a decision is reached, students will be notified of their status by letter.

All candidates for admission to the Ed.D. in Educational Leadership must submit an Application to Graduate Studies along with a non-refundable application fee ($50) and arrange for official transcripts to be sent directly to the Office of Graduate Studies in Education from previously attended colleges or universities. In addition, a completed Certificate of Immunization will be required of all students.

If not documented on an official transcript, the student must complete coursework in instructional technology, human growth and development, and assessment or educational measurement before graduating with the Ed.D.

Admission Criteria. Candidates for admission to the Ed.D. will meet the following criteria:

- Baccalaureate and Master’s degrees from regionally accredited institutions
- Documentation of at least 5 years of relevant professional experience in the Education sector
- Grade Point Average—Undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher; Graduate GPA of 3.2 or higher.
- Teacher licensure—Teacher licensure and three years of teaching experience by program’s completion (for A&S candidates).
- Student Goals—A letter to the Dean expressing the candidate’s professional goals
- Recommendations—Rating forms from three present or former employers who can attest to the candidate’s leadership potential.
- Interview—submission to an interview by Education graduate faculty pertinent to the candidate’s potential for doctoral study
- Graduate Record Examination—submission of scores from the GRE taken within the past 5 years. A minimum total score of 1600 will be utilized in admission decisions following this formula: Graduate or Ed.S. GPA X 200 + GRE (verbal plus quantitative). No GRE score below 850 is acceptable, irrespective of GPA.

In addition to the criteria above, candidates for admission to the Administration and Supervision track must submit the following:

- Writing Sample—All candidates for the Administration and Supervision track, regardless of GPA, must successfully complete a writing sample demonstrating adequate advanced graduate level writing skills.
- A&S Screening Committee Interview – All candidates for the Administration and Supervision track must be interviewed by an admissions screening committee comprised of university and public school personnel who will make a recommendation to the Program Director concerning admission to the program. Candidates should possess leadership potential as demonstrated by past leadership experiences as exhibited in the screening interview.

The Graduate Education Admission Committee reviews the performance of each doctoral student who has been initially admitted to the program, deciding upon continuation or non-continuation in Phase II of the Ed.D. Specifically, the Committee reviews the performance and perceived potential of each student in the “Ed.S. phase” of the doctoral program according to two criteria:

- Completion of Phase I of the Ed.D., the “Ed.S. phase of 39 hours,” with an Ed.S. minimum GPA of 3.2.
- Evaluation and validation by doctoral faculty who have taught the student in Phase I, attesting to the doctoral student’s potential based on his/her academic performance. All faculty are surveyed by the Graduate Education Admission Committee. A minimum of two positive faculty recommendations are required for continuation into Phase II of the Ed.D.

Program of Study

At the time of admission, a student may transfer up to 9 graduate semester hours (recent “A” or “B” work from a regionally accredited institution) into the doctoral program with the approval of the Program Director. Transferred credits become a part of an official Program of Study that is furnished to the student. It is the student’s responsibility to follow the Program of Study carefully in scheduling classes.

Residency Requirement

Students are expected to complete the first 30-39 hours during the first 18 months of the program with a minimum GPA of 3.2. Continuous enrollment is expected. Students who interrupt the residency requirement may be dropped from the program.

Time Limitations

All requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed within 6 years from the first semester of enrollment. Students needing more than 6 years to complete the degree must file a time extension petition with the Dean of the School.

All students completing the Doctor of Education Degree in Educational Leadership must meet the following criteria for graduation.

1. Successful completion of the required 60 semester hours of coursework with a minimum GPA of 3.2.
3. Successful completion of the written and oral Comprehensive Examinations.

In addition to the above criteria, students completing the Administration and Supervision licensure track must:

1. Successfully complete the required Practicum or Internship.
2. Successfully complete the School Leader Licensure Assessment Exam.
