Mission Statement
Intercultural engagement—including community development, humanitarian outreach, and integrative research skills—is essential for a globalized world and increasingly important to our student population. Intercultural Studies at Union—in integrative, academically rigorous, missional—provides its students with an interdisciplinary approach to current theory and research relevant to intercultural engagement. By optimizing the impact that our students and our community members have here and around the globe, Intercultural Studies bolsters Union’s broader mission of providing Christ-centered education that promotes excellence and character development in service to Church and society.

Curriculum
Union offers an interdisciplinary major and minor in Intercultural Studies. Both programs are designed to enable students to develop theoretical and practical knowledge needed to live and work effectively in culturally complex environments. The University also offers the minor in Humanitarian Studies, which is designed to prepare students to apply content in their majors in a cross-cultural setting, with particular attention to meeting needs in culturally diverse communities at home and around the world.

For additional information including direct contact information with program personnel, see www.uu.edu/programs/interculturalstudies/.

Intercultural Studies Partnerships
The Intercultural Studies Program partners with Union programs of study to enhance the intercultural competence of Union graduates working stateside and abroad. Students in these programs receive coordinated advising and integrate the two programs of study through two key Intercultural Studies courses: a structured field experience and a program capstone. These two courses integrate theory and research from both intercultural studies and the partner program to provide students with the ability to address complex intercultural issues in the workplace.

Intercultural Business
Union’s Intercultural Business program integrates AACSB-accredited business education with an innovative Intercultural Studies curriculum to cultivate intercultural competence for students wishing to serve in a variety of for-profit, nonprofit, and missions organizations both stateside and abroad. Intercultural Business graduates are prepared to:

• Address economic needs through cross-cultural, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), bring together people from a variety of cultures, and in both foreign and domestic missions work.
• Serve businesses that operate in a range of cross-cultural contexts, including entrepreneurship in multi-ethnic settings, international affairs in large/multinational organizations, and managing innovation to solve complex human needs.
Currently, Intercultural Business offers the following programming combinations:

- ICS major + Business Administration minor
- ICS major + Management minor
- ICS major + Marketing minor
- Economics major + ICS minor
- *Business Administration major + ICS minor
- Includes an International Business Concentration

Prospective students may propose other combinations for possible approval by the MSB and ICS.
